Task 2 uses CountVectorizer (n-grams 1–4).

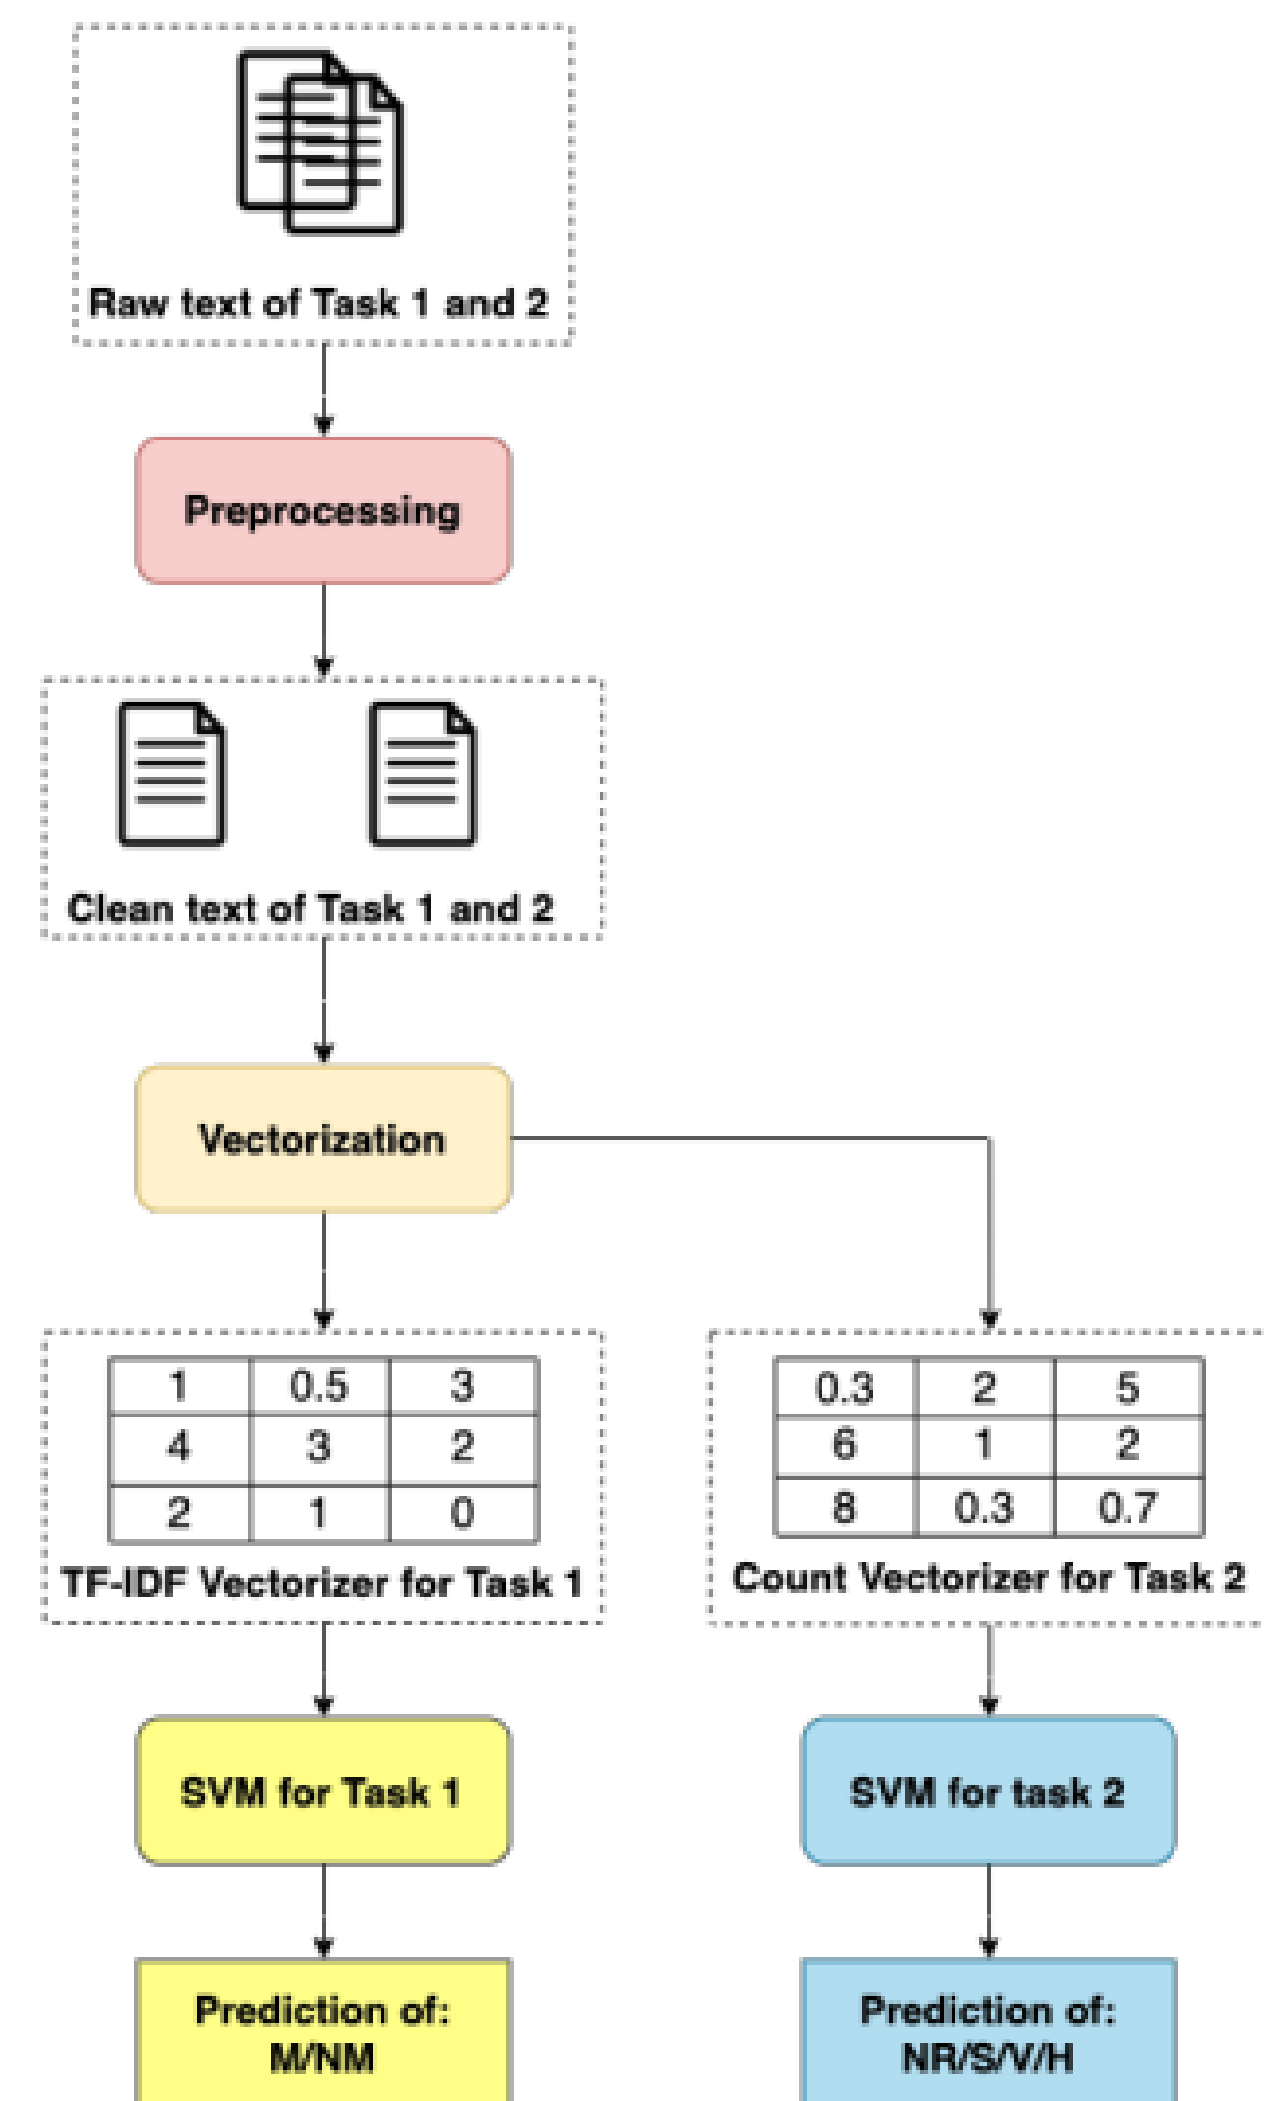

Phase 3: Modeling

Support Vector Machine (SVM).

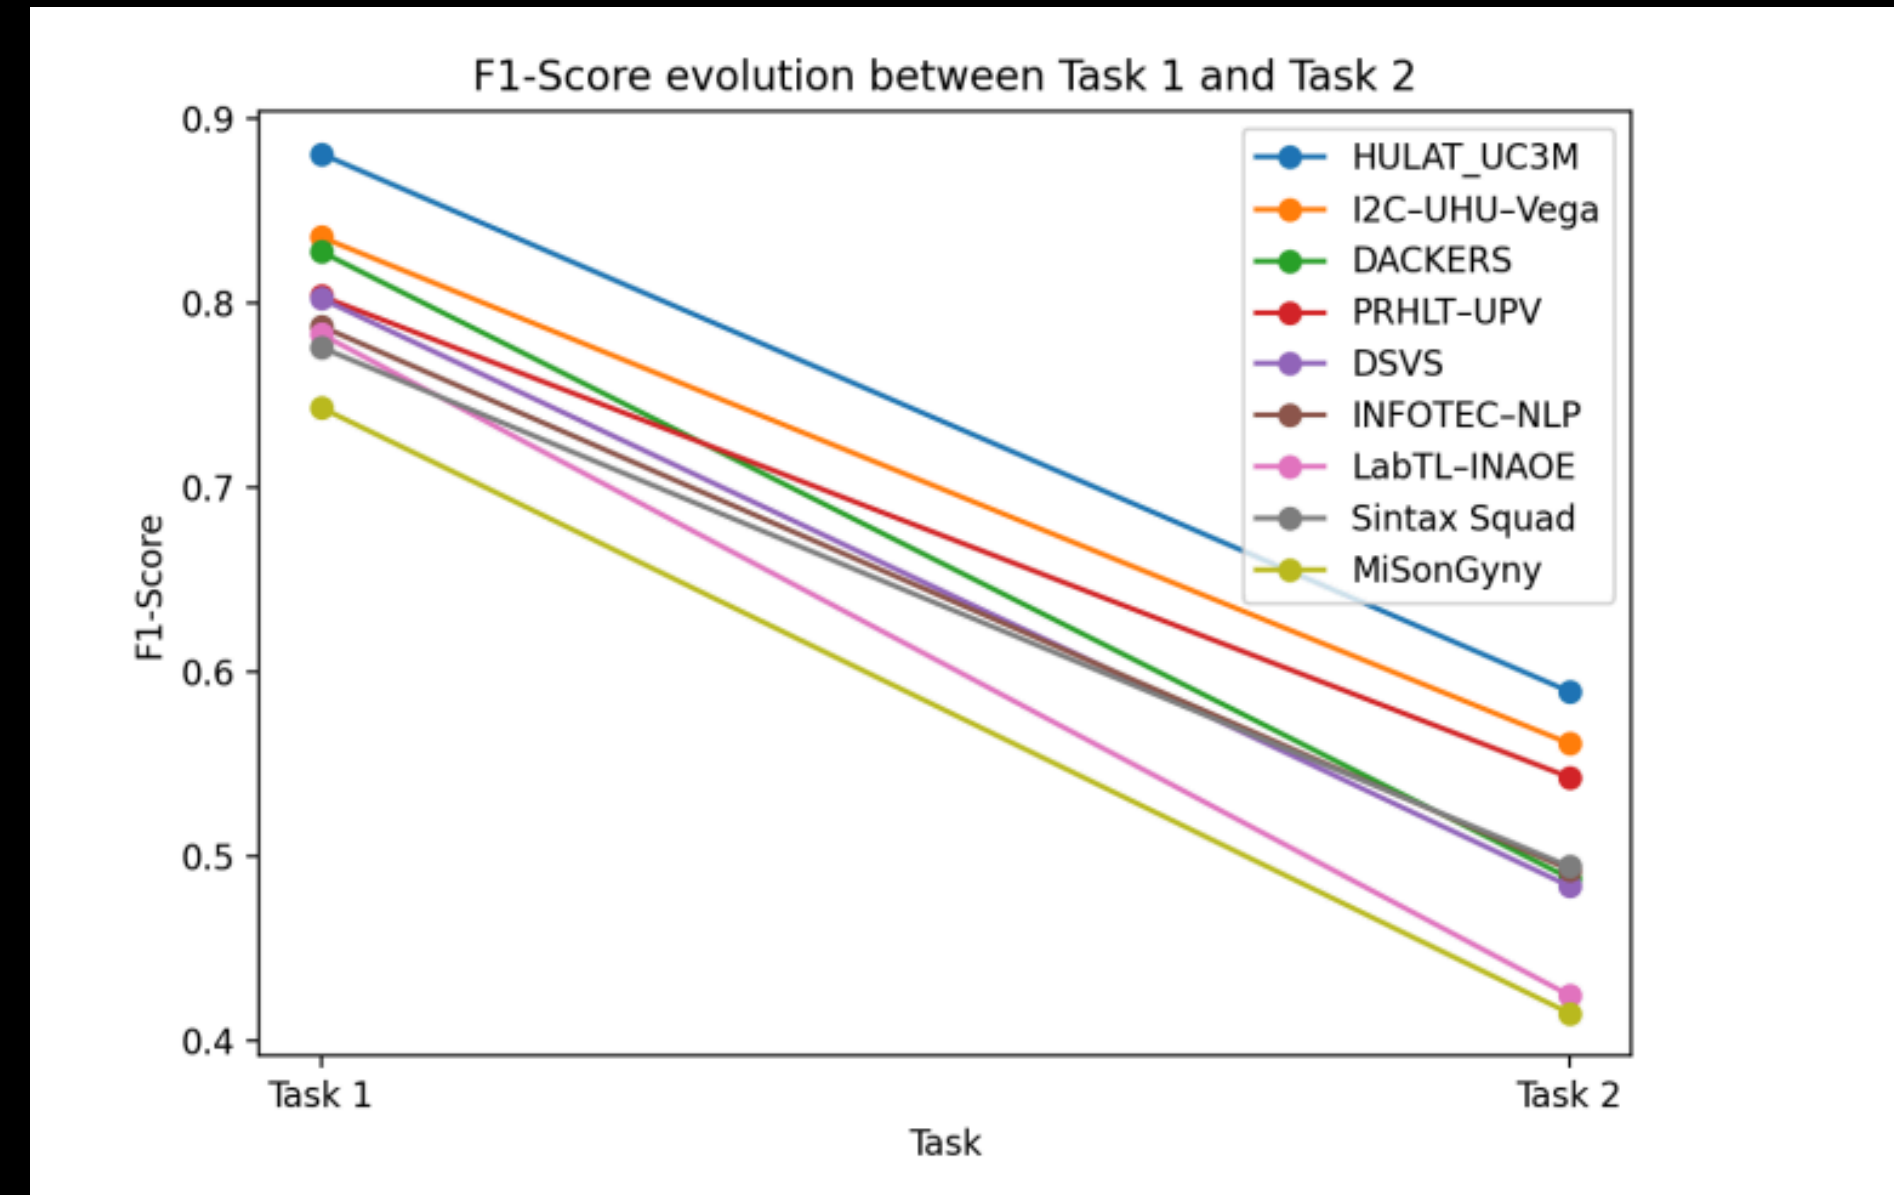

Linear kernel for Task 1; RBF kernel for Task 2.

Phase 4: Prediction

Output of labels (M/NM or NR/S/V/H).

Results 2025

Best approaches

HULAT UC3M (#1)

- Ensembles (Longformer, RoBERTa) + Generative models (Qwen3)
- Multilingual LLMs (XLM-RoBERTa)
- Hierarchical and multi-strategy models

I2C-UHU-Vega (#2)

- Extreme data augmentation (reduction of rare classes, ADE)
- Efficient fine-tuning (LoRA parameters)
- Artificial data augmentation

Key insight:

Success depended on combining robust Transformers with aggressive data augmentation strategies to mitigate critical class imbalance.
